📍 Tour Stops — What & Why

🏰 Sagrada Família (exterior on tour)

Gaudí's unfinished UNESCO basilica — the icon of Barcelona. The tour covers the Nativity & Passion facades. Staggering even from outside; the interior (your evening ticket) is the real magic.

🌈 Park Güell

Gaudí's whimsical public park — the mosaic serpentine bench, gingerbread gatehouses, the tiled dragon (el drac), and a sweeping viewpoint over the city. WanderOn should cover the group entry to the Monumental Zone.

🏠 Casa Batlló + Passeig de Gràcia

Gaudí's "House of Bones" — bone-like balconies and a scaled roof, on Barcelona's grandest boulevard. Casa Milà / La Pedrera (also Gaudí) is nearby. Tour covers the exteriors.

Gothic Quarter (Barri Gòtic)

The medieval heart of Barcelona — the Barcelona Cathedral, narrow stone lanes, hidden plazas (Plaça Reial, Plaça Sant Felip Neri), Roman ruins. Best on foot with the guide.

Transport & Getting Around

- Daytime: the WanderOn coach/tour handles all touring transport — just be on time.
 - Independent evening hops: buy a T-Casual ticket — 10 journeys, ~€12.55, Zone 1 (metro + bus + tram, transfers within 75 min count as one). Great value solo. ⚠️ Can't be shared between people.
 - Your hotel is on Plaça d'Espanya — metro L1 (red), L3 (green), L8 + many buses. Very central.
 - Apps: Citymapper, Google Maps (download offline), Bolt for taxis.

Tickets & Bookings

City tour — included (WanderOn)

The ~8h guided coach/hop-on-hop-off tour and its group entries are included. Nothing to book.

Sagrada Família INSIDE — booked — QR ready

- Your ~17:15 (5:15 PM) timed slot lines up neatly as a stop after the day tour.
- Have the QR saved offline on your phone; carry ID; arrive ~15 min early — there's a security screening on entry.
- Fellow travelers Manisha and Aman are also doing Sagrada inside today — coordinate your slot timing with them.
- The interior — light pouring through the stained glass — is widely considered the best part of Barcelona. Don't rush it.

€80 tips/tax

Already collected by WanderOn on Aug 20 — nothing further to pay today.

Lunch (near the Gothic route):

- CatBar — craft-beer bar with fully vegan burgers, in the Gothic/Born area. Perfect quick tour-day lunch. Try the classic vegan burger + fries.
- Flax & Kale — huge veg/vegan menu near El Raval / Plaça de Catalunya. Poke-style bowls, veg burgers, kale dishes, smoothies.

Dinner:

- Teresa Carles (100% vegetarian) — near Plaça de Catalunya, walkable from the Gothic Quarter. Wild-mushroom risotto, veg lasagna, quinoa & superfood salads, fresh juices, homemade cakes. Zero hidden-meat risk — order freely.

Anywhere backup veg staples: Pan con tomate (tomato bread), tortilla de patatas (potato omelette — contains egg), patatas bravas, pimientos de padrón, escalivada (roasted veg), crema catalana dessert. Use the HappyCow app to find nearby veg spots on the fly. ⚠️ Avoid paella/rice unless confirmed veg (usually meat/fish stock) and anything with jamón or atún.

Movies, Songs & Pop Culture Filmed Here (Bollywood + Hollywood)

Barcelona is one of cinema's favorite cities — you'll literally walk through movie sets today.

- 🎬 Vicky Cristina Barcelona (2008, Woody Allen) — the film that made the world fall for this city. Scarlett Johansson, Penélope Cruz and Javier Bardem move through Park Güell (you're there mid-morning — the mosaic terrace is straight out of the film), the Gothic Quarter's lamplit lanes, and multiple Gaudí landmarks. Keep an eye out at Park Güell and Barri Gòtic — you're standing in the frames.
- 🎬 Zindagi Na Milegi Dobara (2011) — the ultimate Bollywood road-trip film has Barcelona segments woven through it; the city's streets, plazas and energy are all over the movie. (Its scuba scene is on the Costa Brava — that's tomorrow, Day 04.)
- 🕯️ Perfume: The Story of a Murderer (2006) — Barcelona's old town and the medieval lanes of Catalonia doubled for 18th-century France. The claustrophobic Gothic alleys you'll walk this afternoon are exactly the mood.
- ⚔️ Cathedral of the Sea (La Catedral del Mar) — the hit historical drama centered on the Santa Maria del Mar basilica in the Born/Gothic district. If you pass it on the walking tour, that's the "cathedral of the sea" itself.
- 🎵 "Barcelona" — Freddie Mercury & Montserrat Caballé (1988) — the soaring operatic duet that became the anthem of the 1992 Barcelona Olympics. Queen's Freddie Mercury and Catalan opera legend Montserrat Caballé — a rock god and a diva, the city's signature song. Play it tonight; it hits differently when you're actually here. (And yes — she's named after tomorrow's mountain, Montserrat.)

Tips

- Most of the day is organized — follow the guide/coach; your job is to be on time and enjoy.
 - Comfy walking shoes — Park Güell and the Gothic Quarter are lots of walking/stairs on uneven stone.
 - Sun + water — hot, exposed spots (Park Güell viewpoint, Sagrada exterior). Refill your bottle; ~28–30°C, humid, sunset ~20:30.
 - Sagrada QR ready offline; coordinate slot timing with Manisha/Aman.
 - Pickpocket alert — Gothic Quarter, Las Ramblas, Passeig de Gràcia and the metro are hotspots. Zip bags, phone secure, valuables in front.
 - Pub crawl (optional, 21:45–04:00) — fun for bonding with the crew, but tomorrow (Aug 22) is a full-day Montserrat + Girona + Costa Brava tour with an early start. Skip it if you'd rather rest.
 - Same hotel tonight — no packing/move. But lay out a small daypack for tomorrow's day trip.
